1951 McGill Winter Carnival Starts Today

City Wide Parade Will Start Three Full Days of Activities

Carnival Skiing Planned for City, St. Sauveur

As one of the major Carnival events, the Eastern Intercollegiate Ski Union Meet will be taking place tomorrow at St. Sauveur. Special trains will take the crowds up to witness the races, and to do some skiing themselves. The ski tows will be operating at reduced rates this year for the benefit of McGill students. The train leaves the Central Station at 8 a.m. exactly and will stop at 8.10 a.m. at Town of Mount Royal to pick up any students who live there, and at Val Royal at 8.20.

The ski events will continue the next day, Saturday, at 2 p.m. at the ski jump at Cote des Neiges with ski jumping. Teams from the Eastern United States and Canada will be competing in this meet. As of now, conditions for ski jumping appear ideal and it is hoped that conditions will go on behaving like this for the weekend. Charles Tremblay of Dartmouth, rated as one of the best ski jumpers in collegiate circles in the United States, will be out to beat John Draper of McGill who defeated him in last year's McGill Winter Carnival.

From this event, buses will be on hand to take the spectators to the Cabaret at the University of Montreal. The transportation will be free upon presentation of ticket stubs from the ski jump meet.

At the same time as the ski jumping competition, a swimming meet will take place at the new McGill Swimming Pool on Pine Avenue, between McGill and the Brooklyn Polytech. Following the meet, a number of McGill coeds will give a display of ornamental swimming and trick diving.

McGill Book Shop Announces Longer Week-day Hours

In response to student suggestions that the McGill Book Store remain open until 5 p.m. on week days, Mr. Ray Verrey, manager, decided to experiment with staying open for the extra half hour during the last week to see if there would be enough students requiring service. The experiment turned out satisfactorily, with numerous students making use of the Book Store's facilities between 4:30 and 5 p.m., although the new store hours were not made public.

Until further notice, the Book Store will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekdays, and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays.

The manager hopes that students will continue to offer such constructive criticism to the staff, since it is the responsibility of the Book Store to serve the students' needs.

Daily Staffers Meet Today

Operations for the next three weeks, promotions policy, and the closing banquet will be main points of discussion at a meeting of Daily staffers of desk editor and senior staff writer rank and above today in the Union.

The meeting has been called by the Managing Board for 1 p.m. in the Union Workshop, next to The Daily office.

Compulsory Training Argument of Debate

Today's inter-Faculty debate brings the Faculties of Law and Dentistry together in a debate that is of particular current interest. The resolution stands "Resolved that Canada should immediately adopt a policy of universal compulsory training." Irwin Gliserman and Sam Shrier will uphold the affirmative for the Faculty of Law while Ed Donohue and Martin Eldinger will argue the negative for the Faculty of Dentistry.

In recent debates Law defeated Arts and Science and the Dentists won over the Commercemen. The winner of today's debate meets the Theologians who last week defeated the Engineers.

The debate takes place in the Union Club Room at 1:00 p.m.

MAYOR HOUDE
... to crown Queen ...

Forum Night, Cabaret Plans Announced

Crowning of the 1951 Carnival Queen, highlight of the Carnival, will take place tomorrow at the Forum. This will be the first time the results of yesterday's voting are made public. Guests of honor will be Mayor Houde who will crown the winner. Starting the evening at the Forum at 8 p.m. will be a regular league game between McGill's senior hockey team and the senior team of the University of Montreal.

Tickets for the event are on sale at the Gym and will be sold at the Forum tomorrow night. She train from St. Sauveur will arrive in time for students to attend this event, a Carnival committee spokesman said.

Figure skating by a chorus line of McGill co-eds will be highlighted when Andra McLaughlin, member of the U.S. team in skating in world competition exhibits her talents in figure skating. The McGill band will be in attendance to provide music during the change in events. Crowning of the Queen will climax the evening.

Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p.m., following the ski jump at Cote des Neiges a "cabaret" will take place in the Auditorium of the University of Montreal. Consisting of excerpts from several college revues, this event was considered by many to be the one of the best of the Carnival.

Lending their talents to the Cabaret are members of the casts of the Red and White Revue of McGill, Western, and the University of Montreal and featured will be Don Wolvin, former star of McGill Revues.

Climaxing the three day Carnival is the Ball to be held Saturday evening at the Currie Gym. All five finalists in the Queen contest will preside over the event. Dancing will be to the music of Art Hallman and his orchestra.

Debating Eliminations

"World War Was Fruitful and Stimulating"—A. & S. Debate

Men's blood was not wasted according to the negative in the Arts and Science debate yesterday, when the resolution "that World War II was fought in vain," was defeated by Ben Greenberg and Isadore Yablou. Ron Sutherland and Trevor Bishop upheld the affirmative.

The debate was one in a series to determine the speaker to represent first year in the Arts and Science interclass debating.

Sutherland, speaking first for the affirmative, was judged as "best speaker." He stated that there was still aggression in the world and that World War II had just disposed of the Fascist trend. He asked if the United Nations was doing any better than the League of Nations and explained the condition in the world before the war. "Now, the countries are racing with each other for military superiority because of an instinct for survival."

First speaker for the negative, Greenberg defined the phrase "in vain" as fruitless. He said that the aim of the war had been to save the world from Hitler. The results

Mount Royal Night, Parade to Open Carnival

Lectures and labs have been cancelled from 12 to one today to allow students to participate in the opening parade that will open this year's Winter Carnival.

The parade will be led by the five Carnival Queen candidates, and the Red Wings. It will be escorted by the Mounted Police and the motorcycle corps of the Montreal Police Force.

Several floats, contributed by Montreal business firms, and ten clowns, will be present, and Eaton's band box will provide music. Martial music will be provided by McGill's band and that of Mont St. Louis.

Officially opening the carnival, students will meet at the corner of Cote des Neiges and Remembrance Rd. at eight o'clock tonight. Torches will be supplied to early comers and the parade will proceed along Remembrance road led by the Candidates.

At Beaver Lake, Dr. F. Cyril James accompanied by other Carnival officials, will cut the tape and thus open the Carnival. This will be a signal for fireworks to start which in turn will start the outdoor events, many of which will be free. There will be skating on Beaver Lake, skiing on the mountain—with free ski tow and tobogganning. The Montreal Skating Club in conjunction with some of McGill's own skating club, will perform. Over 300 snowshoers will be competing for the Miss Murray Snowshoe Trophy.

Meanwhile, Carnival crowds will either dance in the chalet, partake of refreshments, or take a sleigh ride, at nominal cost, around Mount Royal.

Manitoba Students Will Face East For Debate Cup

Winnipeg, Man.—(CUP)—At the University of Manitoba recently Charles G. Smith and Clifford Mathews, winners of the McGoun Cup for debating, won the right to represent western Canada against eastern competition for the Governor-General's award, the highest in Canadian debating.

The east-west debate will be held in eastern Canada March 9 and 10 under the auspices of the Villeneuve trophy league. Smith and Mathews defeated Margaret Mann and Sha Sabzail, the other two winners of the McGoun Cup.

About 100 persons heard Margaret Mann and Sha Sabzail debate the affirmative, while Charles Smith and Clifford Mathews argued the negative on the topic, "Resolved

McGill Will Welcome Laval Friends Tonight

Busses Will Carry Students From Beaver Lake to Station to Meet Quebecers

By GEORGE V. NOVOTNY

French dictionaries are hauled from their dusty shelves once more as McGill students prepare for the coming of fifty Laval students—20 girls and 30 boys—tonight.

They will arrive at 9:30 p.m., and buses and sleighs will carry McGill students from Beaver Lake to the station and back again—free—for a welcome to the arriving guests. Next morning, a special car will be reserved to carry the Lavalites to St. Sauveur. Mimeographed sheets with French songs will be distributed for a mixed sing-song during the trip. Back from St. Sauveur Friday night, after an S.E.C. banquet in the Union, the guests will sit in a reserved section in the Forum, to take part in the night's activities.

Saturday morning at ten o'clock, the Red Wings and the Scarlet Key will conduct tours of the campus.

Yuval to Discuss Hebrew University —Starts Book Week

"The Effects of the Hebrew University on the Near East" will be the topic of an address by Moshe Yuval, Israeli consul-general to Canada. This talk commences the Hebrew University Book Week and is scheduled for this Sunday evening at 8 p.m. at the Hillel Foundation.

The Book Week which will take place February 18-24, is a campus-wide drive to collect books for the students of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem. It is also an attempt to encourage understanding between the Hebrew University and McGill.

Dr. James has extended his patronage to the campaign. Other patrons include Mr. Moshe Yuval, Dr. J. H. Quastel, Dr. S. B. Ullman, Mr. Samuel Risk, M.A. and Rabbi Dr. Samuel Cass.

The week will consist of five events:
Sunday, Mr. Moshe Yuval.
Monday, 1 p.m., Dr. Ullman, luncheon forum at Hillel House on "Science in Israel".
Wednesday, Israeli Film Night, 8 p.m. Room 250, Biology Building, "Dream No More," "University on the Hill," and others. Dr. Quastel will speak on the Hebrew University.

Friday, IZFA Oneg Shabbat, 8:30 p.m. at Hillel House.
Saturday, debate 8 p.m. on "The Value of Youth Immigration to Israel". It will be followed by a closing social dance which will include entertainment and refreshments.

Books will be raised by charging a book as admission to the events on Sunday, Wednesday, and Saturday. Books required include college level text books, novels in all languages, books on Canada and also books by Canadians.

The complete book week is under the combined sponsorship of the Intercollegiate Zionist Federation of America (IZFA) and the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at McGill.

McGill Redmen Win Dodds Trophy; Windsors Beat Doyles in MBL Playoff

The Dodds Trophy, emblematic of Montreal basketball superiority between the M.B.L. champions and McGill, was won by the Redmen last night for the first time since 1940. Ending an 11-year famine Moe Abramowitz's McGill quintet came from behind to win in overtime, 63 to 55 over the Y.M.H.A. Blues.

The Blues have held the Cup since 1946 and were well on their way to retaining it, until a substitute got hot and putted 22 points. The sub, Lou Endman, was the star of the game as he sank shots from mid-court without touching the basket rim most of the time. Endman scored 11 baskets out of 15 tries.

In the opener at the Sir Arthur Currie gymnasium, Windsors took a one-game lead in the best-of-three semi-final, defeating Doyle Motors 56 to 37. The second game of the series will be played Saturday night at Mont St. Louis with the third if necessary set for McGill next week. Should Windsors win in two straight the final with Y.M.H.A. will start next Wednesday.

The nightcap was a real thriller from beginning to end with Y.M.H.A. holding a 28-25 half-time lead and both teams were tied at 52-all following regulation time. After matching baskets early in the overtime, Endman sank two set shots from mid-court to break the game wide open. "Tall" Tolchinsky was another valuable man in the McGill machine with a 17-point effort.

Lanky Myer Knobovitch, rookie pivotman, paced the Blues with 17 points with veteran Benny Lands picking up 13.

Glen Wood's Doyles couldn't find the basket range in the playoff, enabling Windsors to rack up an

Novelist Says: "Israel Is the Keystone for Peace"—Pierre Van Paassen

By SELMA SKOLL

"The emergence of the State of Israel is the most important happening of post-war days. Israel is the keystone for world peace." This was the theme of a talk by Mr. Pierre Van Paassen, Unitarian Minister and Doctor of Hebrew Letters, in the Union Ballroom last night. Van Paassen spoke on the international situation today and Israel's place in it.

The Jews nationally have, after 2,000 years of persecution come back to the source of their existence to take up where their fathers left off. In this hour a ray of light has again come forth from the Near East. Today, as in the past, the Jews are rekindling the lamp and sending it forth on earth. The Jews in Israel are working to make their state a radiating centre of Jewish culture, interest and life.

Van Paassen said that "Nationalism is necessary before Internationalism. One must first have a morally equal state before and international one is possible. To have this, Imperialism must go. If Israel radiates its influence, then Imperialism will have received a terrible blow."

In 1905, the Prime Minister of The Netherlands said that Palestine gave him the sinister impression of a land lying in waste. He felt that only a miracle could save it. In the short space of fifty years this miracle has taken place. Jerusalem is now a metropolis and Tel Aviv stands where formerly there were only thistle trees.

There is, however, a new evil in Israel. For too long the Arabs have placed a heavy strain on this new state. Israel is under pressure from both the East and West. This tension is, however, present all over the Near East. In Egypt there are great social disturbances; in Turkey, three million soldiers have been posted along the Dardanelles. But Turkey cannot hold out against the Russians for very long. Famine and destruction reigns along the Black Sea.

In Israel, the war against the Arabs was not expected to last more than four or five months because of the contrast between the mighty well-equipped Egyptian army and the small Jewish force. However the Israeli forces managed to keep the Egyptians immobilized on the sands of the desert for 18 months and then defeated them.

Bienvenue aux Carabins de Quebec

Même si c'est toujours avec un grand plaisir que nous souhaitons la bienvenue à des étudiants d'une autre Université sur notre "campus", la visite d'une délégation de Laval à McGill durant cette prochaine fin de semaine est considérée, ici, comme un événement de la première importance. Pour de tels regards, de notre part nous devons de remercier ceux qui auparavant ont organisé des réunions avec les étudiants de Laval et de McGill, ici et à Québec même, et un commentaire sur la grande valeur de ces relations, a contribué à développer de tels échanges.

La distance entre Montréal et Québec ne nous permet que de rares relations. Mais le peu que nous avons, comme la champagne, nous donne le goût pour plus. Nous sommes sûrs que le programme organisé pour nos visiteurs de Laval durant les prochains trois jours maintiendra le niveau établi dans le passé.

Nous aimerions, alors, ajouter notre bienvenue aux souhaits déjà exprimés par notre principal docteur James, et par le président de la Société des Étudiants de McGill. Nous espérons que nos visiteurs Québécois pourront rapporter avec eux à Québec autant d'amitié qu'ils nous laisseront ici à Montréal.

Fun Before the Slaughter

With a parade down town starting from the Roddick Gates at noon today, and an evening of frolic and fun on Mount Royal tonight, the three-day Winter Carnival holiday will get underway. It is a gigantic festival, and represents, with the exception of the Students' Society elections in three weeks time, the last outburst of student enthusiasm before everyone settles down to study for the approaching exams.

Specific details of the many activities which make up the Carnival programme should by now be fairly well known about the campus, so effectively have the publicity agents gone about their business. A few notes and comments, however, may not be out of order.

The first word should obviously be one of commendation to the Carnival executive and their hundreds of helpers. Although we suspect it is too big a job for students to produce "A Carnival for Montrealers," as is advertised, we cannot but admire those who have undertaken it. Certainly the tremendous enthusiasm with which the Carnival is being received speaks for the appreciation of the student body.

We must confess that we have been bothered by another aspect of the program, though, and that is some of the campaigning that has been conducted in support of the Queen candidates. At election time, enthuiasm can sometimes outrun discretion. The campaigning should be kept on as high a level as possible and every care should be taken to avoid any tactics which might smack of a political race.

In particular, we would object most strenuously to those who have tampered with copies of The Daily after they have been deposited at the distribution points in the morning, before they have been picked up by the students. On Tuesday morning, some one inserted copies of a mimeographed sheet proclaiming the virtues of one of the candidates between the pages of copies of The Daily stacked in the Arts Building foyer. Again, yesterday the name of a candidate was stamped across the front page of a number of copies, and blotters found their way between pages of the paper.

We consider the paper ours, and our responsibility, until it is in the hands of the readers. We should like them to receive it in its natural, unblemished form.

It is the rule in student administration that each succeeding executive learns from events of the previous year. Great care will have to be taken to maintain the prestige naturally accorded to the Carnival Queen election.

If the weatherman is cooperative, the Carnival should easily be the success its forerunners were. The preparations have been most capably made, and the student body appears to be in a receptive mood. We hope everybody has a good time.

Discussing the German Dilemma

by Douglas Cohen

The question of Western German rearmament is of the greatest significance and importance. The arguments both pro and con are extremely convincing. On the one hand it can be shown, that German armies, in addition to that countries considerable industrial potential must be utilized in the fight against communism. The supporters of a renewed and vigorous policy of Western German rearmament argue that expediency must overrule any doubts as to the danger of establishing Germany as a powerful military force.

Against the proposal there are many convincing facts. Germany itself has been reluctant to support any programme which proposes rearmament without the granting of full political equality. The Germans have exploited to the fullest extent the dissension between East and West. They have skillfully played Russia and the United States against each other with a view to obtaining far reaching concessions from the West. As a further drawback to rearming Germany we have the painful lessons of the last forty years before us. It is a questionable point as to whether rearmament is in fact the lesser of the two evils. Germany has not shown herself to be sincerely anxious to support the West. The country is still greatly influenced by Nazi doctrines and undemocratic forces. The West has absolutely no guarantee that German forces once established will not refuse to support Western policies or even side with the presently overwhelming power of Russia.

This question of German rearmament should be of vital interest to every student at McGill. The dilemma will be thoroughly discussed this Thursday in the Club Room of the Union at eight p.m. The Inter-University Debating League has chosen the topic as the subject for its annual debate and the ensuing debate between Bishop University and McGill should prove of great value to any student concerned with this crucial controversy in world affairs.

Letters to The Editor

Standing Naked and Forlorn

Dear Sir:

Once more we venture to take our pen in hand and try to clear up our designing the statue "Jack Frost" which has caused so much controversy. On looking over the framework which has been standing on the campus naked and forlorn since Monday we have come to the conclusion that there is not much resemblance between our design and the structure being erected. We were very surprised that no one bothered to consult us once the design had been accepted and the plans for its erection were being made. We feel that we will assume responsibility for the idea but certainly not for its being built.

May we also make it very clear that we will not answer any questions regarding the snow sculpture which stands in front of the Architecture building.

F. PALIN.

Wopsle's Dignity

Dear Sir:

Was surprised and amazed to see a carnival queen candidate's poster beginning: "STOODENTS!" looked closer; was astonished to see picture of rodent-like animal with long thin tail, supposedly uttering above-mentioned cry. Professor Wopsle? apparently.

Contacted professor Wopsle who indignantly disclaimed any connection with said poster. He requests that you print following statement:

"I strenuously object to the unauthorized use of my portrait or any facsimile thereof, or any expression attributed to me, for the purpose of publicizing any object or individual, either male, female, or neuter. A professor must maintain his dignity!"

MRT Presents 'Blood Wedding'

by Emily Hick

Last night the M.R.T. presented an unusual play in Lorca's "Blood Wedding." It is the sort of drama where one false step crosses the border into melodrama, and the director, Myron Galloway, should be commended for never once breaking through the almost invisible line.

The play was translated from the Spanish by Richard O'Connell and James Graham-Lujan, who succeeded in keeping the original poetry intact in beauty and vividness and the Spanish atmosphere intensely real.

Poetic Drama

"Blood Wedding", a fine poetic drama, concerns the elemental, simple people whom Lorca loved best and understood well. It is like a folk tale and most of the characters are symbolic.

The story is of a bride who runs away on her wedding night. The husband pursues them and he and the lover slay each other in the forest. The betrayed husband's mother is one of the central figures, and is constantly torn between her passionate desire for her family's survival and her equally flaming determination to avenge the deaths of her husband and son. Ironically, her last son is killed in an attempt to fulfill both of these ends.

The poetic passages in the play were well delivered for the most part and Lorca's poetry is excellent in translation. The Moon's part was a rhythmic lyricism and the delivery by Adelaide Smith was remarkably good. Lines like "I come freezing down to walls and windows" in their context creates the atmosphere of dark brooding which infuses the play.

Female Leads Good

The Mother was excellently portrayed by Marita Ensio. Her vital characterization of a passionate and bitter old woman was strikingly real throughout. Her ability to play her role to its fullest without over-acting is shown again and again where she delivers intense monologues of tears and passion admirably.

Joan Blackman as The Bride also offered a moving performance. She was at her best in the last scene in her attempt to explain her disgraceful action to The Mother (her mother-in-law). The vivid poetry here, describing The Bride torn between her dark demanding passion for her lover and her desire for the clean pure love of The Bridegroom, is excellent, and was superbly delivered.

Jan Schwartz as The Bridegroom, and Donald Wilson as Leonardo, the lover, seemed a little uncertain about how to portray their roles, and their performances were somewhat stilted.

Marian Rosenzweig and Elizabeth Christensen carried off their dramatic scene and the rest of the cast, particularly Pauline Trehub as the Beggar Woman, tended to blend well into the atmosphere of the play.

Both the sets and costumes were simple and realistic, and the lighting was effective.

"Blood Wedding" will be presented tonight, tomorrow, and Saturday at the MRT Playhouse on Guy Street.

Little Symphony

by Rene Walter

An evening featuring Mozart is, in itself, something to look forward to, but after a concert like the one given by the Little Symphony on Tuesday night, it is an event hard to forget.

Two works by Mozart, the Concerto in A for piano and orchestra and the Haffner Sonata made up the major portion of the evening. Leopold Mannes, as soloist in the concerto came out with a remarkable performance. For most people, his interpretation seemed almost uninspired, so much did Mr. Mannes keep to the score. It was not the playing of a great virtuoso, nor a brilliant display of technique, but a simple and beautifully serene interpretation. The second movement would have pleased the composer himself. With Mr. Bamberg and the orchestra providing a perfect background, Leopold Mannes displayed his child like touch which proves to be a headache to many a pianist and which is seldom heard among the present generation of technicians.

The Haffner Sonata embodies the structure of a symphony, with the orchestra providing at times the accompaniment for a solo violin part. This work was performed in a flawless fashion; here musicians and conductor are at home, and the co-ordination they display is ample proof of their inclination for this type of music.

they might put some of those "athletic" students to shame.

The selection of the Campus Queen has been an event attended with great interest and anticipation. Gradually the field was hacked down to five; and, although matters haven't progressed much since then, the imposing round of candidates' activities, and the public speculation surrounding them will make even the crowning of the winner Friday night, by happy, hearty Mayor Houde, almost an anticlimax. (Continued on Page 4.)

Carnival Capers

by Niccolo Garibaldi

What with all these sound trucks blasting away at somber, gray buildings in order to get the best resonant effect possible, and a huge gaunt structure towering over the road near the Roddick gates, it would take a pretty thickskinned and thickskulled fellow not to get some inkling that a momentous occasion is about to take place at old McGill. Myriad fantastic snow sculptures which seem to be springing out of thin air, and which are supposed to represent the weirdest sort of college life I ever saw, might also help our poor confused friend to realize that the mammoth McGill Winter Carnival is getting under full swing, after religiously assuring us that it would be the largest in the entire world — well, North America anyway.

If any one was able to block his ears sufficiently on Monday to slow down his uncaring eardrums, he would most certainly have heard a piece of pleasantly-jangling music — pleasant, that is, for the first fifteen or twenty times — joyfully proclaimed to be the theme for our great carnival with all the force that a double row of heavy-duty amplifiers could muster.

It seems that every fraternity, campus club, and organization has been persuaded to erect some sort of snow sculpture; it doesn't really matter what kind, just a fit representation to enter in the giant contest, which absolutely every entrant appears determined to win. As a result, geese, mountain ranges, totem poles, and beer steins have faithfully been whittled out, in some cases colored, and left to melt in the "great thaw," which seems to plague Montreal with the approach of every winter carnival.

The publicity surrounding this affair has really been staggering. Campus queens, giant posters, cotton snowmen, and cancelled lectures have all added to increase fervor in expectation of the big week-end. This cancellation of lectures would seem to indicate that the carnival is more educational than, say, sociology; however, perhaps it's just that all the old, stuffy professors want to get into the big parade themselves. Who knows,

In Consolation:

Due to the unfortunate cancellation of lectures this Friday, the Features Department announces the formation of a Thursday (today) conference to replace the little chat originally scheduled for Friday. No doubt review tickets will be scattered among the company present.

Face Off by Evelyn Knight, Carnival Queen Crowning, Features of Forum Festival

By BOB BORNSTEIN

It may be that the presence of Evelyn Knight, the popular American vocalist who has volunteered to face off the first puck, and the crowning of the Carnival Queen, will inspire the Hockey Redmen to rise to the heights during Friday night's Forum Festival. And if this is the case, McGill's rink rambles have a chance to do what they haven't been able to do in quite a spell, namely, beat U. of M. Carabins.

Dave Campbell's boys almost accomplished this feat in their last meeting with the Flying Frenchmen. That was two weeks ago at Verdun Auditorium when Art Therrien's Terrorists just managed to edge the Red and White ice men 5-4 in a game that could have gone either way.

The colorful carnival setting may well be the spark to ignite the Redmen who are capable of playing top-flight hockey on occasion. A win over the Carabins would give Coach Campbell great satisfaction, especially since the locals are still in the running for the CIAU title.

Although the provincial title is already signed, sealed and delivered as far as U. of M. is concerned, the Carabins are on the outside looking in on the CIAU side of the ledger. An inability to cope with Toronto Varsity power has tumbled them off their lofty pedestal.

Queen's Game a Must for Redmen Face Elimination of Gaels Triumph

With the ultimatum of winning all their remaining intercollegiate games if they want to at least tie Western for a championship, the McGill senior basketball team will entrain for Kingston this week-end where they will face the Golden Gaels on Saturday night in the second part of a doubleheader. The first tilt will feature the Indians against Queen's Inter.

The Gaels are a close-checking, rough and tough ball club, with one main weakness and this is in the shooting department. In one game against the Blues, which they lost by the score of 35-34, the Trio had the phenomenally low shooting average of 15 per cent.

Their main scoring threat is 6'11" forward Don Griffin. This boy can shoot very well with either hand and is extremely fast and deceptive. Their other top scorer is their 6'4" centre Harry Lampman, who is also noted for his rebounding ability. Their remaining starters are Irwin, Kelleher, and Tippy Logan. McLaughlin is the substitute centre and he stands at 6'4 1/2" in his bare feet.

Moe Abramowitz will take along the same team which he has been using in the last games. That is to say he will probably start Sol Tolchinsky, in the centre slot, Sheldon Merling and Bouncing Ben Tischenbaum in the forward slots, with Dave Caldwell and Lou Endman at the guard positions.

On the bench the coach will have such able replacements as Smiley Wilson, who was McGill's best man in the encounter against Champlain, Don Finlayson, Asher Garbuz and Jim Mitchener. The tenth man will be brought up after the intercollegiate game.

Council Recommends Change In Current Intramural Setup

By RHODA HARRIS

A evening meeting of the MWSAA was held last night in RVC, with president Mary Richardson in the chair, and Miss Monroe, head of the Department of Physical Education, as special guest.

First on the agenda was a discussion on a required program of athletics, which McGill at the present time does not have. It was pointed out that after graduation from college, a girl should be an all-round individual; in addition to furthering this end, such a program would enable the students to keep physically fit throughout the year, provide them with an opportunity of acquiring several skills, and would enlarge their social contacts.

Recent studies have proved that people who do some sort of physical work also do better in their studies; most council members feel that any university owes this to her students.

Current interest in volleyball in the high schools has led to an increased enthusiasm for this sport amongst college women. Miss Richardson suggested that in a short time a team of sufficient skill could compete with McMaster, Toronto, and Western, which already play intercollegiate. A motion was passed to start volleyball next fall on a two-year experimental basis.

Owens, Bob Stanforth, and Jack Griffin, who will compete in spite of his recent injury.

Dartmouth will send Brooks Dodge, who is one of the top rated skiers in the United States. In last week-end's meet at the Dartmouth Winter Carnival, Dodge won the Alpine Combined, taking the slalom and downhill.

Tom Jacobs of Middlebury who came second in the Dartmouth Carnival, is another of the outstanding competitors.

Verne Goodwin, second in the Bromley Giant Slalom; Dick Ireland, New England Inter-Scholastic Champion '48; and Gale Shaw, Winner of the coveted Vic Constant Trophy in 1950, a real strong competitor from Middlebury.

Colin Stewart, an outstanding four-event competitor, member of the '48 U.S. Olympic Team, who came first in the McGill Winter Carnival last year, will represent Dartmouth along with Weston Blake who came second in the McGill Carnival cross country last year. Also represented will be Charles Tremblay who is rated as one of the best jumpers in collegiate circles and who placed second at last year's Winter Carnival.

The Schedule of events runs as follows:

The Cross country race will start at 10 a.m., and the slalom at 2 p.m., on Friday, Saturday, the downhill race will be run at 9 a.m. with the ski jump at the Cotes Des Neiges at 2 p.m. The slalom, downhill, and cross country will take place at St. Sauveur.

A discussion on the present intramural setup followed. For some time, this system has presented several problems, foremost of which has been the lack of spirit amongst the participants. It was unanimously decided that beginning next year, the intramural competition units would be broken up into faculties, rather than years, as it now stands. In so doing, the Council hopes that many more girls will take an active part in inter-faculty athletics.

The RVC ski house at St. Adele will continue to operate, at a cost of $1 per person during the winter week-ends. All girls who wish to go up this weekend are urged to sign the notice board before Friday.

McGill Grapplers Head to London

By ART GUTTMAN

The big test for the McGill grapplers comes tomorrow and Saturday nights when they meet Toronto, Queen's, O.A.C., and Western in the annual Intercollegiate Wrestling championships. Being held at London, McGill is favored to take the laurels and unseat O.A.C., the defending champs.

Boasting a 30-12 victory over Queen's, and with five Quebec Provincial Novice champions on their roster, Coach Alan Turnbull is confident that his grunt and groaners can bring the crown back to Montreal.

Bob McLeod, Tak Fugimajara, Fred Suttle, Mark Hatt, and Baldy Tomlinson are all Novice champions and all battled their way into the finals in last year's intercollegiate competition, except Bob McLeod who was injured and didn't compete. The other Provincial novice-champ is Austin Caverhill, who can't wrestle as there is no intercollegiate wrestling in his 114 lb. class.

Three newcomers to collegiate wrestling are also fighting for the Red and White this year. Art Robar, who didn't compete last year due to injuries, Don Menard, and Mary Bergson are all competing this season for the first time. Menard is a flashy competitor who has plenty of athletics experience behind him, Bergson played for the Inter-Football champs as first-string quarterback last fall and is a rugged athlete.

Last year, McGill only took one intercollegiate individual crown when Ed Theriault topped the 135 lb. division. Ed, even though he graduated from McGill has helped the team in workouts, and he agrees with optimistic Coach Turnbull that McGill's chances look pretty good this year.

A light workout was held last night as a final preparation before the long ride to Western, and all men reported in excellent shape and anxious to recover the championship.

Coach Turnbull and Manager Gibby Rosenberg have done a fine job of putting the boys in excellent shape, with the one big idea of showing the Canadian intercollegiate world that the wrestling title belongs here at McGill.

THE LINEUP
125 lbs., Bob McLeod; 135 lbs., Tak Fugimajara; 145, Art Robar; 155 lbs., Fred Suttle; 165 lbs., Don Menard; 175 lbs., Mark Hatt; 181 lbs., Marv Bergson; heavy, Dave Tomlinson.

'Collegiate Bird Meet Saturday

The McGill Badminton team the championship semi-finals and meets Queens this Saturday in the four men team chosen to face them will consist of Gordie Simpson, Harry Evans, Dave Hargreaves, and George Stuart.

Simpson's performance in the Quebec Badminton Championships this week stamps him as McGill's number one threat. He won the men's singles, teamed up with brother Andy to cop the men's doubles, and he and Helen Smith combined to capture the mixed doubles.

In the Western semi-final section, Western, Toronto, McMaster, and O.A.C. play off this Saturday to decide the team to oppose the Eastern champs.

This Saturday's game will be played at 1:30 in the M.A.A.A. courts and McGill spectators will be admitted free.

will feature the 50 yard sprint, 65 yard high jump, 500 yards, 1 mile, high jump, and a 640 yard relay. It will get underway at 6:45 p.m. and should finish by 7:30.

Some notable track stars absent last Tuesday were Dick Williams, Dave Winslip, Pete Robinson, Farrell Hyde, and John and Berry King. It's expected that they will be on hand for next week's meet. Results of the meet are as follows:
16 lb. Shot: Lionel Whitman, Ken Wagner, Ab Limonchick. Distance: 40' 11 1/2". 1,000 yards: Ken Scott, Gordie Gilmore. Time: 2 minutes

Brave Hopes Burn Bright Whip Mac in Tough Tilt

By MORTY GLICKMAN

The McGill Braves advanced to within a point of the Ottawa-St. Lawrence Hockey Conference league lead by virtue of their fifth straight win, this one coming at the expense of the McDonald Aggies by the score of 6-3. The Braves record now consists of 2 wins, 2 ties, to make up 12 points. The Loyola Warriors lead the league with 13 points.

The game last night featured good hard hockey which saw the Braves improve in every period. They fell behind a 2-1 score in the first period, in the second they counted three, while the Aggies counted only once, and then in the third pulled away to a game ending three goal lead.

The Aggies put up a surprisingly good fight; in fact for the first two periods they tossed a scare into the Braves who have to win all their remaining games to knock off the Warriors. Had the Braves lost this one, the odds would have been greatly against them to capture the conference title for their third successive year.

The McGill hockey lineup was loaded with stars. Guy Bourgois, who netted three against R.M.C., continued his prolific scoring by whipping in two. Previllie and Emo played very well on defence. Emo, who in the last game against McDonald was a hat tricker, was a standout, although his only appearance on the score sheet was an assist on a goal by Gareau.

Goalie Jerry Ferguson combined luck and natural ability to fend off the Aggie drives. Fergie used the proverbial horseshoe to stop some of the shots which were labeled sure fire goals. The pick of the Green and Gold aggregation was a toss-up between Ness and Ketchum. Each scored one goal and one assist.

McDonald drew first blood in the encounter after only one minute of play, but two minutes later, Ferabee of McGill tied it up on assists from Andrews and Robertson. Before the period ended, Ness scored one to put Mac one up.

McGill drove to a four to three lead in the second period with goals coming off the sticks of Bourgois, Gareau, and Findley, with Borrin counting for the Aggies.

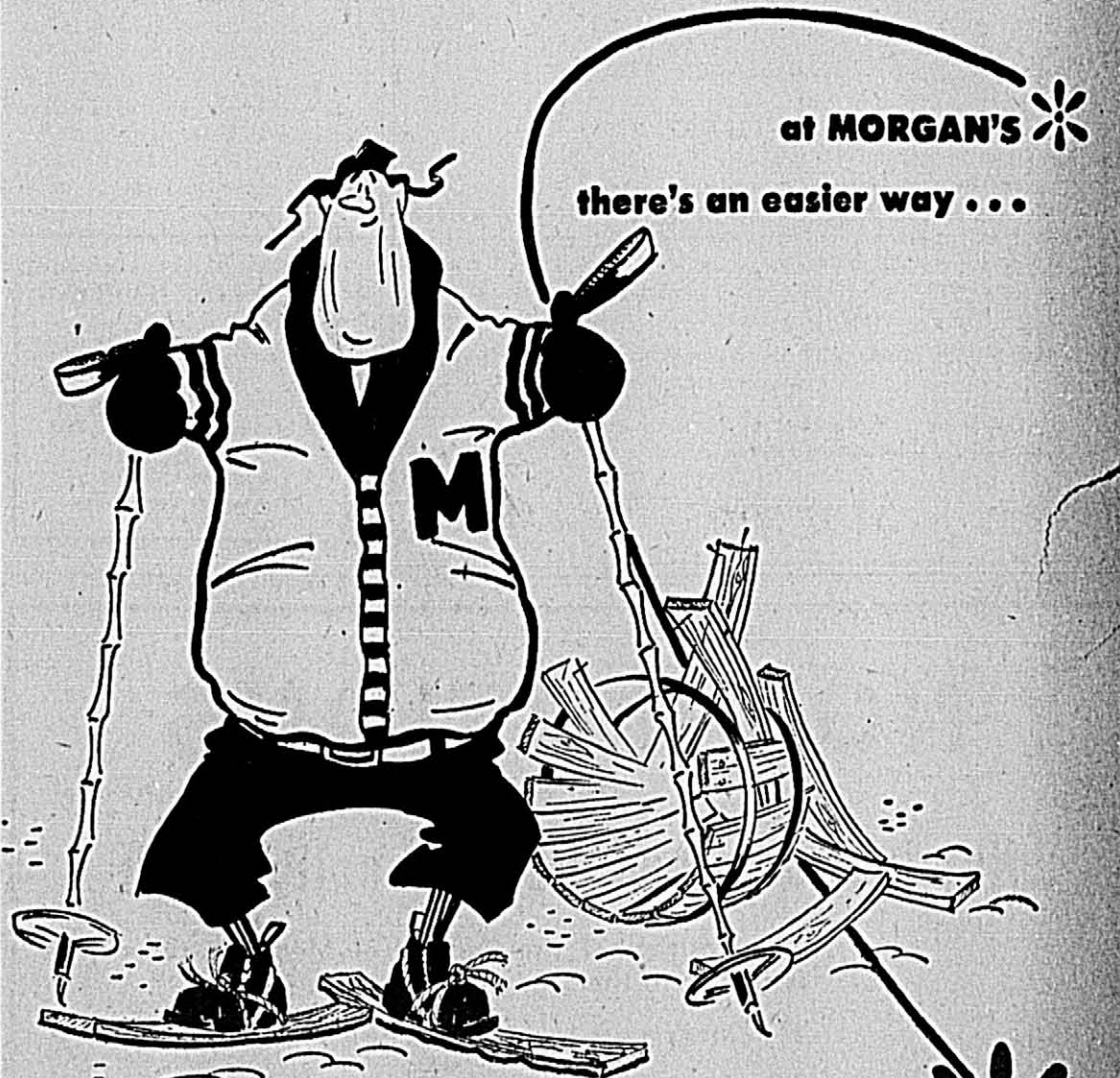

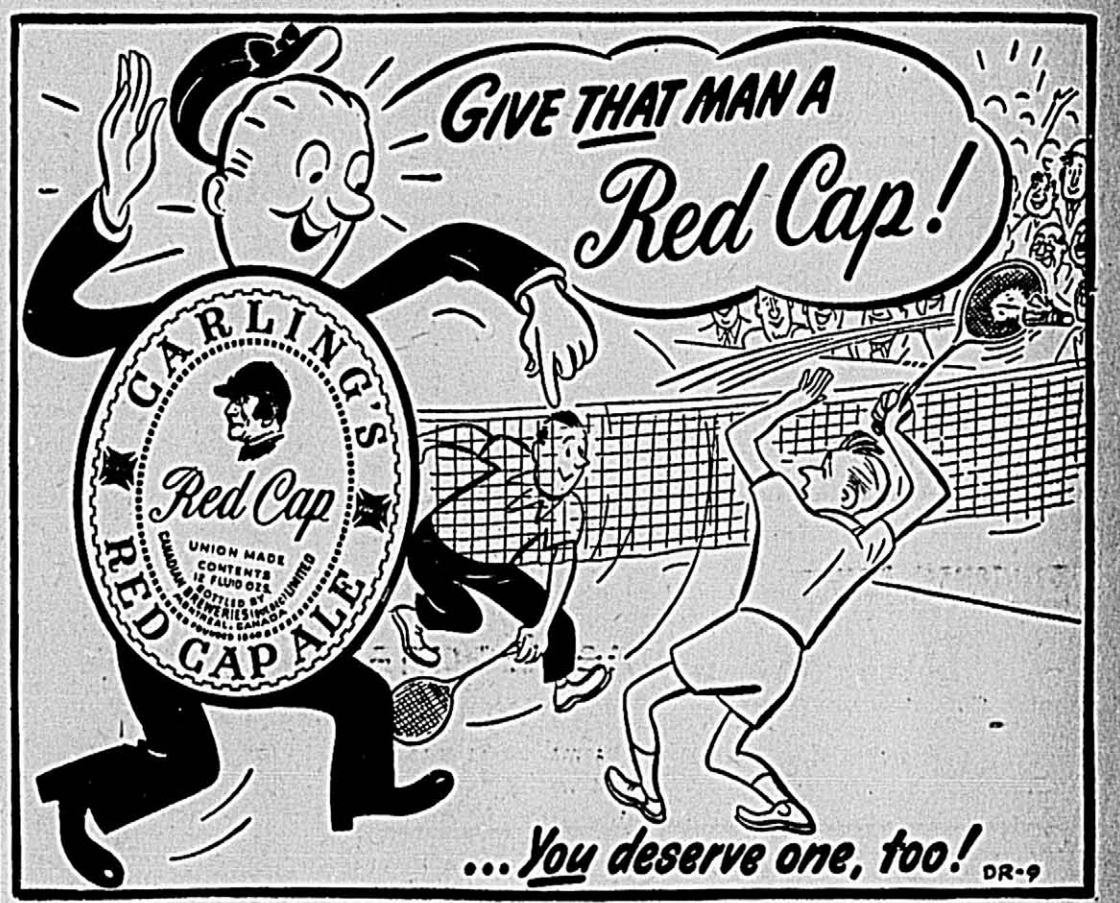

Shaw and Bourgois scored early in the third period to give the McGills a 6-3 lead. This period featured some very good play on the part of the Braves. Emo and Ferabee both hit the goal post; and Fensom starred with his fancy stick work and tireless digging.

On Thursday the Braves journey to Sherbrooke where Bishops college will play host to them. Bishop's standing in the conference is not too impressive. Having played five games, the Bishops have only copped two wins for their total of four points. The Braves are definite favorites over the homesters.

scaffolding for the statue, already built inside the campus in front of the Roddick gates, will be dismantled tonight, the committee revealed.

Ordered from Toronto, a committee spokesman said, the paper was supposed to be of heavy type and treated with oil so as to be water resistant. The committee in charge intended to wrap the paper around the scaffolding. Using fine nozzles a fog of water was to be sprayed over the structure, which, in the cold weather, would freeze on the paper. In this way, the committee hoped to coat the paper with a layer of ice about three or four inches thick.

Witness to the efforts of the Winter Carnival Committee to complete the statue could be seen all day yesterday as two remnants of the "heavy-type" paper waved in the wind from the top of the bare scaffolding.

The contestants were judged individually. The way in which they stood, their speech, and their manner of presentation was considered, rather than the material contained in the arguments.

On Cosmo Agenda

Problems and Culture of Malaya, India and Japan Are Talk Topic

Last night the Cosmopolitan Club heard a round table discussion on the great nations of Eastern Asia, at which five speakers discussed the present status and future aspirations of India, Japan and Malaya. The representative of the fourth country invited, China, was laid low by the prevalent flu virus. The Indian subcontinent came up for discussion first with Jim Jainsheg and Bennett Pithevedian speaking. The first speaker stressed the fact that the problems and principal characteristics of the country arose from the fact that the population was made up of two great separate, cultural and religious groups plus a great number of minor groups all of whom were reluctant to take up new ideas, and who suffered from mutual mistrust. The second speaker took the opposite view, stressing that the rise of education and the predominant Pravidian background in all groups caused a great deal of real unity that was not apparent on the surface. He also minimized the seriousness of the much discussed caste system. John Shintani, from the University of Montreal, representing Japan,

Carnival Capers—p. 2

After the fierce landslide of Technicolor posters erected by campaign managers on behalf of these aspirants, it seems to be a much harder job choosing one to vote for than to make up one's mind to vote, as is often the case in this university. Anyone with eyes to read have long been aware that several delegates from Laval University are going to pay us a return visit from last year. This news will certainly be welcomed by all, especially, I should think, by the girls, who no doubt plan to seize their golden opportunity of passing French 12b with honors, the easy pleasant way. Our French-speaking conferees for their part should certainly be returned the favor; so that many will return home muttering vaguely of "sleigh ride, moonlight, etc.", all in a pronounced accent naturally, for what increases a man's appeal so much as a heavy accent?

Finally, we can, so far, only speculate on that enormous host of athletic and entertainment events which have been planned for the carnival proper: skiing, excursions up north, skating, dances, parades, et al. One somehow gains the impression, though, that this sort of program has been immensely popular for whatever occasion it was planned in the past, McGill students being one, big, fun-loving family; so that, with the flash of color, noisy hullabaloo, confusion, and complexity of it all, there seems absolutely no reason why, in spite of two whole days of lectures lost forever to knowledge-thirsty minds, this shouldn't be the best and heartiest celebration which McGill has ever undertaken. All I would like to know is, just who is paying for this great extravaganza—the professors?
